

BROOKLYN NEWS.

ROW AT A CONVENTION

Police Called to Preserve Order by Brooklyn Republicans.

Willis and Butting Factions Fought Hard for the Spoils.

Kept It Up Until 3.30 A. M., When the Sheriff Was Routed.

It was generally acknowledged among Brooklyn Republicans this morning that the County Convention last night was a victory for the Willis faction, or Independents. It was the first Convention held under the direct district representation plan, and it was impossible for any one man to control the delegates or pre-arrange a slate.

This was illustrated, the Republicans said today, by the defeat of Sheriff Butting's candidate Robert W. Sedgwick, for Register.

The Republican County ticket is as follows: Register—Deputy Police Commissioner Granville W. Harman.

County Clerk—Henry C. Saffen.

County Treasurer—Hubert Taylor.

Associate Judge of the Court of Sessions—John C. Matthews.

Commissioner of the Court of Sessions—John C. Matthews.

That was the first victory for Willis, and it was soon followed by the nomination of Judge John C. Matthews, who defeated Judge Hennessey and Henderson.

Hubert Taylor, who was elected in the field by the Nineteenth Ward delegates and nominated.

Altogether the Convention was one of the liveliest ever held in the Clermont Avenue Rink. At one time the excitement became so intense that the police were called upon to preserve order.

It was 3.30 o'clock this morning before the Convention finished nominating and adjourned.

Granville W. Harman is well known in Brooklyn and a prominent clubman. The office for which he was nominated was one of the liveliest ever held in the county government.

Mr. Harman was born in Ohio, near Cleveland. When he was a boy he came to Brooklyn, where he has lived ever since. He has always been a Republican.

In 1878 he was appointed Deputy Internal Revenue Collector under John Matthews.

The following year he ran for the Assembly from the Twelfth District.

As Mr. Harman was not on good terms with John W. McKane, he was defeated by the town of Gravesend, which gave him only twenty-six votes.

He was appointed United States Inspector of Steam Tenders under President Harrison and then Deputy Police Commissioner, which office he now holds.

He is a member of the United League Club.

Henry C. Saffen, the nominee for County Clerk, is a printer, and lives in the Eastern District.

Hubert Taylor is an ex-Assemblyman, and was at one time Assistant District Attorney. He is a member of the firm of Taylor, Schermerhorn and Company, and is at present an Associate Judge of the Court of Sessions.

Mr. Taylor expressed himself as extremely pleased with the county ticket and the result of the Convention.

"I think," said the Mayor, "that the Convention was a success. Each delegate had a vote. He was directly represented. It was the nearest thing to a people's convention that has ever been held."

Some days ago I notified my subscribers that it was my wish that they should not pay for the paper until I told them to pay for it at least three or four years.

This did not apply to Mr. Harman. He is a popular man and deserves the notice. He has served the city well. Mayor Schermerhorn's views are significant, as he represents the anti-machine element in Republican politics.

STOLE ROLLS AND MILK.

Boerle Filled His Basket with Aristocrat's Provender.

Carl Boerle was arraigned in the Gates Avenue Police Court, Brooklyn, this morning for stealing three rolls and bread that is left behind in the hallways of the aristocratic Stuyvesant Hill district, of Brooklyn.

For some time complaints have been coming in about these petty thefts, and the police were called out this morning.

The police found Boerle with a basket containing a quantity of rolls and several bottles of milk.

Boerle, a driver for the New York Condensed Milk Company, of 942 E. Kalb avenue, identified the bottles as those he had just delivered at the residence of Edward Schermerhorn, Jr., of the same address.

Justice Quigley sentenced him to ten days in jail.

Stole a Barrel of Whiskey.

Two unknown men drove up to the saloon of John Duffy, 240, Fifth avenue, Brooklyn, this morning, and before any one discovered what they intended, they threw a barrel of whiskey into the wagon and drove away. It was a fine liquor and cost him $100.

ACCUSED BY A BARTENDER.

Two Men Denied Saying They Were Partaken Agents.

Albert A. Boone, bartender in A. J. Cohen's saloon, at 27 West Third street, had Joseph Hennessey, of 24 West Tenth street, and George W. Williams, of 201 West One Hundred and Forty-fifth street, arrested last night on the charge of disorderly conduct.

Boone said in Jefferson Market Court today that the prisoners represented themselves as partaken agents, and that Hennessey had been robbed of $5 in the saloon and wanted that amount given him. Hennessey and Williams denied Boone's story, and the former said he had been robbed of $5 in the saloon last Monday night. Both prisoners were discharged by Justice Voorhis.

BAIL-JUMPER CAUGHT.

Charles H. Knoche Re-arrested and Held for Examination.

Charles H. Knoche, of 1017 Second avenue, who was released on $250 bail Aug. 2 for examination Aug. 5 last on a charge of passing a worthless $51 check, and who two days later, when his bondsman, Philip Hennessey, of 22 West Third street, was a man to surrender him, mysteriously disappeared, was arrested on a warrant and taken to the station at the corner of 42nd street and Park Row.

Justice Martin, in Tombs Police Court, today held Knoche in $250 bail for examination.

HAD A DUEL WITH A BURGLAR.

Martin, Though Wounded, Shot and Captured His Man.

The Robber Now in Jail with a Bullet in His Leg.

NEW TOWN, L. I., Oct. 11.—Night Watchman Henry Martin, of Maspeth, at 10 o'clock this morning saw a man walking through the town carrying two large bags. He told the man to stop, and when he did not do so Martin fired a shot at him.

The stranger returned the fire, hitting Martin in the left arm. Martin then fired another shot, this time hitting his man in the right leg. He fell, and when Martin went up to him he found the two bags contained clothing that had been taken from Hennessey's tailor shop.

A set of burglar's tools were also found in his possession. In the kit were twenty-three bits and twenty-five skeleton keys. He also had a dark lantern.

Entrance had been effected to the tailor shop by boring a hole in the side of the house near the weather-board and then unfastening a catch opening.

The burglar said he was Henry Eckhardt, of 129 Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, and that he had been in the shop for three years of age and powerfully built.

The ball in the burglar's leg has not yet been extracted. The wound in Martin's arm is bandaged up, the bullet having been extracted. Eckhardt is in jail at New Town.

CALLED A DEFENDED BRIGAND.

Pennabene Says Mrs. Genelli's Words Hurt $1,000 Worth.

The attaches of the City Court, Brooklyn, and a number of spectators were this morning taken to some amusing evidence in counter suits brought before Judge Clement by Giuseppe Pennabene and Mrs. Lucia Genelli for $1,000 for slander.

The suits are the outcome of a deal in real estate. Mrs. Genelli keeps a grocery on Front street, Brooklyn, Sept. 24 Court.

Pennabene purchased from her a quart of tomatoes. He tendered her in payment $1.

He claims that he forgot his change and returned later. When he found the quart of tomatoes, he said he was hurt.

He testified that she called him "a Sicilian brigand with horns," and also called him a robber. These epithets, Pennabene says, have hurt his reputation $1,000 worth.

Mrs. Genelli's story is that her clerk gave Pennabene his change and that he used abusive epithets that should never appear in print. In addressing her, she says he slandered her and she also made $1,000 damages.

During the testimony both of the litigants became excited and several times the court officers had to interfere to preserve order.

FATHER AND SON FOUGHT.

The Latter Took His Mother's Part and Was Stabbed Three Times.

Martin Vizzard, of 80 Sanford street, Brooklyn, was committed to jail by Justice Downing in the Lee Avenue Court today, to await examination on a charge of stabbing his son Thomas.

According to the story told in court by Mrs. Vizzard today, Vizzard arrived home about 1 o'clock this morning and found his son in bed.

He commenced to abuse his wife. The son interfered, and the two men fought all the way down the street. Vizzard had a large pocket-knife, and he stabbed his son three times.

Policeman Robinson heard young Vizzard's cries for help and placed the father under arrest.

SMASHED THE GLASSWARE.

Charles Bischoff, a bartender in the Carlton House, Williamsburg, was arraigned in the Lee Avenue Court today on a charge of assaulting Thomas McDonough, but as McDonough refused to prosecute he was discharged.

McDonough was formerly manager of the Carlton House, but was discharged from the job last night he called on the hotel while under the influence of liquor and smashed all the glassware on the bar.

Bischoff tried to put him out, and during the row the police arrested McDonough, who was badly cut about the head.

DIED IN THE FERRY-HOUSE.

Sailmaker Henry S. Williams Suddenly Expires.

Henry S. Williams, aged sixty, who was a sailmaker and rigger, doing business at 20 Front street, New York, died suddenly this morning at his home at 155 South Fifth street, Brooklyn.

Mr. Williams lived at 155 Schermerhorn street. Several years ago he was annoyed by the boys in the neighborhood, who threw balls against the side of his house. He had himself appointed special constable in the Adams street precinct, and after that the youngsters kept out of his way. He continued to hold his police badge up to the time of his death.

ROPER DENIES LOAN FRAUDS.

He Says the Customers Were Too Impatient in Their Demands.

Oscar W. Roper, the manager and treasurer of the Mutual Building and Loan Syndicate, which is alleged to have been a swindle, took the witness-stand this morning in his trial before Justice Hennessey in the Hudson County General Sessions, Jersey City, on an indictment for obtaining money under false pretenses.

The complainant, John J. Hennessey, a barkeeper, testified that Roper represented himself as an agent of the syndicate which had closed on the day of the trial.

Roper represented himself as the agent of the syndicate which had closed on the day of the trial.

Roper's explanation is that his enterprise was lawful and honorable, but unfortunately, because of the suspicion and enmity of the syndicate, it was ruined. It appears that none of the officers of the syndicate got much money in it.

BAIL-JUMPER CAUGHT.

Charles H. Knoche Re-arrested and Held for Examination.

Charles H. Knoche, of 1017 Second avenue, who was released on $250 bail Aug. 2 for examination Aug. 5 last on a charge of passing a worthless $51 check, and who two days later, when his bondsman, Philip Hennessey, of 22 West Third street, was a man to surrender him, mysteriously disappeared, was arrested on a warrant and taken to the station at the corner of 42nd street and Park Row.

Justice Martin, in Tombs Police Court, today held Knoche in $250 bail for examination.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Man, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Man, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Man, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Man, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Man, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Man, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Man, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Man, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Man, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Man, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

STRIKERS PREPARE TO PARADE.

Police Asked for a Permit and the Route Named.

Cloakmakers and Cutters Encouraged by Their Leaders.

The strike of cloakmakers and cutters was renewed more vigorously than ever today, and the strikers' headquarters in the city are almost completely paralyzed.

Out of 175 large manufacturers, not more than two are in operation, while nearly 1,000 contractors' or sweaters' shops are idle.

Twelve thousand cloakmakers, including operators, salaried tailors and pressers are out, and 1,100 cutters have joined them.

Over 5,000 cloakmakers surged about the doors of New Irving Hall, 214 and 216 Broome street, this morning, all trying to attend the meeting held there, but not had that number could be admitted.

The others lingered about the street, discussing the strike and the prospect of victory. Speakers in the hall encouraged the strikers to stand firm and to remain peaceful. The officers of the Union told the crowd that they would meet with success before another week ended.

Joseph Barondess, the leader of the cloakmakers, did not put in an early appearance at the hall. In response to the call for him, it was stated that he was extremely busy with the Executive committee, and would talk to the strikers later in the day.

It was announced that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

The strikers were informed that the proposed grand parade would be held at 11 o'clock today. The police did not interfere, and the strikers were informed that one of the officers of the union had gone to Police Headquarters to obtain the necessary permit, should the permit for a parade be refused.

DANIEL & SONS.

RIBBONS.

Manufacturers' remnants, loom ends, two to ten yard lengths, all pure silk, and of fine quality. THIRTEEN THOUSAND YARDS altogether.

They comprise Rich Millinery Fancys, Double-face Satins, Satin and Gros Grain, Peau de Soles, Tafeta and Gros Grains. All colors and white, cream and black.

We shall dispose of the above in short order at the following remarkable concession in prices:

1 to 1 3-4 inch wide, stock price 12c. to 20c. yard 5c. yd.

1 3-4 to 2 1-2 inch wide, stock price 22c. to 30c. yard 10c. yd.

2 3-4 to 3 1-2 inch wide, stock price, 30c. to 40c. yard 15c. yd.

3 1-2 to 5 inch wide, stock price 40c. to 60c. yard 19c. and 25c. yd.

To insure this being the MOST ATTRACTIVE RIBBON SALE held by us in many years, we place for purchase to-morrow over FOUR THOUSAND PIECES of very high grade BLACK SILK RIBBONS, plain gros grain, satin and gros grain, double-face satin and fancy effects in double-face Satin and Moires at less than HALF Import PRICES:

1 3-4 inch 5c. yard

</